

From the General Manager of WRUW . . .

Dear Listeners,

It's summertime, and you know what that means. Kids are out of school, families are taking vacations, and WRUW's new schedule is beginning. That's right, just because many students are going home doesn't mean that we're going to stop bringing you the excellent, diverse programming that you've come to expect from us.

But perhaps I'm getting ahead of myself. The spring schedule is hardly gone, and now is a good time to reflect on what we have accomplished over the last few months. We continue to improve our studios to bring you better sounding radio, and your telethon donations are the driving force behind that improvement. This spring, we had our best telethon ever, and it was only possible because of your support. Thanks everybody.

What does the summer hold for you at WRUW? A great mix of community-oriented public affairs programs, music shows from more genres than you can shake a stick at, and great live broadcasts. Students and community members all volunteer to come down and bring you not just the music and viewpoints that you want to hear, with none of the commercials you don't want to hear, but also the stuff you didn't even know you liked. Break out a little and listen to something you've never heard before, whether it's bluegrass, jazz, public affairs, indie, metal, world music, reggae, or anything else you find in this guide that sounds interesting. And believe me, there's plenty more to be heard than what I've mentioned here.

Don't forget, at the end of the summer, we put on Studio-A-Rama, a free and open-to-the-public live concert, featuring great local bands as well as one or two from a little further out. This year will be the 25th anniversary for Studio-A-Rama, so we'll be bringing you an even bigger concert! It's our way of saying thanks to all of our listeners.

So turn your radio up and tune your dial down to 91.1 WRUW-FM. You'll enjoy it – I promise!

Peace,
Jay Williams
WRUW-FM General Manager
